

Talking Points:

Opening Line:

- 1) “Did you know that...”
- 2) “We’re trying to spread the word that...”
- 3) “Could I share with you a way to stretch your food dollars?”

you can use your Bridge (SNAP, Food Assistance, EBT, Food Stamps) card at farmers markets. Even better, many markets participate in Double Up Food Bucks. Double Up is almost too good to be true! For every $2 in SNAP that you spend, you get $2 free to use on fruits and vegetables.”

Follow Up:

“Here’s how it works. Find the Market Manager or Information Booth at the farmers market. Swipe your Bridge card and let them know how much you would like to take out of your account. You will receive wooden tokens to spend with farmers on SNAP-eligible foods and plants. You will receive the same amount of tokens FREE to spend on fruits and vegetables. You can do this on every visit to the farmers market!”

“Do you know which farmers markets are close to you?”

FAQ

Do I have to spend all the tokens that day? No, you can save them for another day.

Can I spend the tokens at a different farmers market? No. Each market has their own set of tokens. They can only be used at the market that gave you them.

Can I use my WIC Bridge Card at the farmers market? No. Even though the cards look similar, the ones that say WIC are for the grocery store. Check with your WIC office to see if you can participate in Project Fresh.
